VOL. XVII, NO. 4

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE, THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1926.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RATEPAYERS FRIDAY NIGHT

The annual meetings of the ratepayers of Blairmore School District No. 628, and of the Town of Blairmore will be held in the Orpheum Theatre on tomorrow (Friday) night, commencing with the Town meeting at 8 o'clock, followed by the school meeting.

Unusual interest is being manifested on this occasion, as matters of very vital importance will be discussed at the meetings.

The most important issue will probably be that connected with the school board and teaching staffs, which will be made an issue in the forthcoming election.

The auditor's reports for the past year and the report of his special investigation into affairs covering the period from 1919 to the present will no doubt cause discussion.

All ratepayers and others who have the welfare of the town and school district at heart should attend these meetings.

Notices have been posted calling for the nominations for the offices of school trustees and councillors, to take place at the Orpheum Theatre on Monday next from eleven of the clock in the forenoon to twelve o'clock noon. Three vacancies occur on the council and two on the board of trustees. Election day will be Monday, February the 28th.

JAMES MAY DIES AT LOS ANGELES

Word was received during the week of the death of James May, son of Mrs. and the late Daniel May, which occurred from smallpox at Los Angeles on Friday last. Mr. May is survived by a wife and two grown-up children, besides a mother and several brothers and a sister, Mrs. F. McTearn, of Blairmore. Jack May and Albert May, of Hillcrest, and Alex. May, of Blairmore, are brothers.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS BEING INSPECTED

While the local school board would rather that an inspection of the local public school be not made till towards the end of the school term, the department of education has ordered an inspection be made at once, and Mr. C. G. Bremner, of Macleod, is in town this week for the express purpose.

UNION WILL PUT UP TWO CANDIDATES

At a special meeting of the Blairmore Local of the Canadian Mine Workers on Sunday afternoon last, the miners decided to take some action in defence of the Blairmore dismissed staff of teachers who are fighting for their rights to organize in support of collective bargaining, and will place in nomination the names of John A. McDonald and Peter Patterson for school board. Three other candidates will be backed by the Union for council.

The miners, joining with all other classes of organized labor in Canada, feel it their duty to support the Blairmore teachers in their fight.

HELLEVUE-BLAIRMORE

Bellevue and Blairmore senior teams meet at the local arena tonight in the second game of the second section series. The game will start promptly at eight o'clock.

BURNS' ANNIVERSARY IS FITTINGLY CELEBRATED

A banquet was given at the Cosmopolitan hotel on Monday night, under the auspices of the Blairmore Burns' Club, in celebration of the anniversary of Robbie Burns.

About seventy guests sat around tables that were bountifully laden with good things that were perhaps first dreamed of by that immortal bard. The menu listed such items as Hors d'Oeuvres a la alyssa, hot kale (Caledonian), saut herring (Bonnie Doune), Scotch haggis (with a true honor), roast beef (Strathallan), hushed neeps (rusty park), celery (tauld brigs), tatties billed and champin, tam-o-shanter dumplin, Ayrshire pie, could cream macchilla, cheese and Scotch scones, and what not. One regrettable feature of the menu was the absence of whiskey.

Following the banquet a toast list and programme of music, speeches, etc., was handled capably by Mr. D. G. Mackenzie. Toasts were drunk to The King and the immortal memory of Robbie Burns, to Scotland, Canada, the Town of Blairmore and the Isles, all of whom were fortunately absent. Among the principal speakers were, the chairman, Mr. Gillis, Mr. Denmore, Mr. S. A. Fraser (Pincher Creek), Mr. John Kerr (Pasburg), Mr. J. A. Kerr (Blairmore), Mr. R. O. Allison (Pincher Creek), Mr. W. I. Huston. Musical selections by Mr. Kerr, violin, were well received; also vocal selections by Messrs. James Coutts and McMurdo and Taylor.

NOTICE

All holders of UNREGISTERED TRANSFERS, Agreements or other instruments relating to the purchase of lots from the Town of Blairmore, are hereby requested to present same for inspection by the Auditor or Secretary at the Town Office, Blairmore, as soon as possible.

E. D. BATTRUM, Auditor.

SPENCE-SHEAD

The marriage took place at the Pro-Cathedral, Calgary, at 6.30 on Monday evening, of Miss Jessie, daughter of Mrs. Alice Shead, of 639 Seventh Avenue West, Calgary, to John Spence, chief of police of the town of Blairmore.

Mrs. Spence was formerly of the Union Bank of Canada staff here and is well and popularly known throughout this district and Pincher Creek, her former home.

MRS. ARCHER WINS CAR

The draw for the Turner car took place during the hockey game at the arena on Monday night, and Mrs. W. Archer, mother-in-law of Billie Turner, happened to hold the lucky number of 35.

About $727.00 was netted from the sale of tickets and that amount has been handed over to Mrs. Turner.

R.C. PLANT HAS BIG OUTPUT

Ten per cent of the world's lead output is produced at the Trail, B. C. smelter, operated by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company.

This plant, which has been shattering production records with spectacular regularity, has just finished its banner year. Not only did it furnish ten per cent of the world's lead supply, but also seven per cent of the world's zinc. From its lead refinery, the last stage of its lead process, 539 tons of metal is being produced daily on an average, while the zinc refinery, which puts out an electrolytic product from the leached roasts to the zinc plant, produces 169 tons of zinc. Nearly all the ore originates at the immense Kimberley mine in the East Kootenay, where a population has grown up in the wake of the rapidly ascending industry.

APPOINTED TO C.N.R. LEGAL STAFF

Mr. Gerald Ruel, vice-president of legal affairs of the Canadian National Railways, announces the appointment of William C. Chisholm, K.C., assistant counsel of the company, to the position of general counsel.

Mr. Chisholm, who was born in Port Hope, Ontario, is a graduate of the University of Toronto. He joined the Grand Trunk railway system as general solicitor in 1918 and when that company was amalgamated with the Canadian National railways in 1923, he was appointed assistant general counsel. Mr. Chisholm is this year's president of the Montreal branch of the University of Toronto Alumni association and is a past president of the University Club of Montreal.

The new Elks' Hall at Nanton was opened with a grand dance the early part of last week. The new building occupies a splendid position on a main corner and is a handsome structure, costing in the neighborhood of $13,000. The hall is one and a half stories, 85 by 85 feet. On the main floor is the lodge room, 35 by 75 feet, with two ante rooms at the entrance. Above the ante-room is a spacious balcony equipped with a Martin Arne Concert Grand piano for the orchestra. The basement, which is well finished throughout, carries a large billiard room, card room, reading room, large dining hall, kitchen and washroom. Altogether, it is one of the finest lodge halls in Southern Alberta and a credit to Nanton and the Elks.

Blairmore Elks' hockey team secured another triumph Monday night over the Lethbridge Vets at the local arena in one of the fastest and best games of the season. The score was five to two in Blairmore's favor. Towards the finish of the game, Tony Volprava, of the locals, received a nasty gash on the nose, that put him out for the finish of the period.

Professionalism Is Killing Sports

It has been realized for some time that professionalism is the enemy of sport, but there is now an awakening to the fact that it is likewise killing the sports themselves. Real sport is to be found in games participated in by the masses of the people for the downright fun of one thing and for the recreation thereby enjoyed. But in the modern mad race for money, even the pastimes of people have been commercialized, and today, instead of people enjoying in games themselves, and deriving pleasure therefrom and gaining physical strength and better health, they pay fancy prices to sit in the grandstand and cheer themselves hoarse over the exploits of a few high salaried experts.

The old days when the corner lot ball teams vied with one another, and the town commons was the scene of a spirited game of lacrosse or football, have gone into the discard. The youth of the present do not appear to play games for the game's sake, and for their own recreation and betterment, but are content to watch from the sidelines and bleachers.

In sport the present generation has degenerated and harked back to the decadent days of Rome when the arena was packed with a multitude watching the performance of a few gladiators. It was a sign of the beginning of the end for Rome of old. The Duke of Wellington has been credited with the statement that the Battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton. Today, however, the newspapers tell of the fifty or one hundred thousand spectators watching two teams of professional players.

Boxing and the noble art of self defence has developed into prize fighting, the prize being purses of money ranging into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Professionalism killed lacrosse, the Canadian national game and one of the finest of all field games. A quarter of a century ago every town and village in Eastern Canada had its lacrosse clubs, and thousands of boys and young men participated in its health giving activities. Then the idea of commercializing the game was conceived, and its blighting effect is seen in the practical disappearance of the game.

Canada's winter game, hockey, is going the same way. Professionalism flourishes for a while, kills the amateur game, and in killing off amateur sport likewise kills the goose that lays the golden egg, because without active amateur sports the development of players comes to an end and the supply of players for professional ranks falls off.

It has been thought that professional baseball was so thoroughly well organized and so deeply entrenched in the United States that it could withstand almost anything. But a recent survey of baseball made for the National Amateur Athletic Federation has established beyond dispute that even baseball is "slipping." Major League matches have approached amateur agencies offering cooperation for reviving sport because they foresee a famine of players for professional ranks fall off.

Professionalism has a further demoralizing effect. The player is out to win, that and that alone. His salary depends upon it, and any trick or expedient that will get past the referee or umpire is resorted to whether it is "sporting" or not. They are not playing for the "game's sake," but for the box office receipts and a prospective sale to some other club at a higher salary. A crowd of spectators goes wild and experiences spasms of joy over a win by the "home" team, although the members of that team may have been collected from the four corners of the continent, and have no interest in or regard for the "home" town—except the salary they are getting out of it. And the same "home" crowd will groan and hiss at the visiting team achieve victory by superior play. Accompanying this so-called sport is a tendency to betting and gambling far surpassing any attendant on amateur games.

Elimination of professionalism and a general revival of interest and participation in amateur sports of all kinds is a much to be desired development in Canada, and one calculated to build up a more virile, robust, self-reliant young Canadianism.

Endorse Hudson's Bay Road

Toronto Business Men Now Recognize Claim of Western Critics

Word is received by C. C. Cook, secretary of the South Saskatchewan branch, Ontario-to-the-Bay Association, that Colonel F. J. James, president, had interviewed prominent financiers in Toronto on the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway. In his letter to Mr. Cook, Mr. James states that the eastern attitude has changed and now is entirely sympathetic toward western claims for completion. Mr. James declared that when in possession of full information regarding the Bay line, Toronto business men could see no objection whatever towards its completion. Major E. Percival-Brown, K.O., was mentioned by Mr. James in his letter as being in accordance with western views.

On his return from England, where he now goes, Mr. James will address a body of business men in Toronto on the feasibility of the Hudson's Bay road. The invitation to make an address was tendered by Toronto residents.

Male mannequins are the latest thing in the Berlin world of fashion. The top hats, detachable collars, shoes and fancy handkerchiefs. Judging by the applause these exhibits have evoked, this method of displaying what is new in men's fashions has met with popular approval.

Says Turks Prepare for War

Threats of Balkan Trouble Coming in the Spring

Threats of a Turkish war in the spring are re-awakening Balkan friendship, according to a dispatch from Athens. Turkey is expected to march through the mountain passes as soon as the snow melts and attack Montenegro and Serbia. Athens believes the war will be definitely combined. The Greek navy is being trained by British officers, while the French army officers are training present-day Spartans.

Views are expressed that Italy will be involved, owing to the expressed determination to remove the stigma of the Mediterranean being called a British lake.

Soviet's Figures About Wheat Crop Mythical

Brought About Slump in Wheat

The London food council has opened an inquiry into the recent remarkable increase in the price of wheat which have been followed by advances in the cost of flour and bread in Great Britain, after they had steadily declined for two months.

This sharp reaction, which has severely both importers and the public, is undoubtedly due in large measure to the issue of false figures as to abundant Russian wheat yield by the Soviet Government. Its action helped to bring about a slump in the wheat markets of the world, and so deceived buyers that importers and bakers have been left with very sticky stocks of wheat and flour.

Deductive proof is now available that the Soviet's figures were mythical and the Communist Government is now seeking to save its face from the discredit into which it has been brought by inducing Sokoloff, the finance commissar, for having framed a badly founded budget, and by declaring that the provincial grain export committees were responsible for the extraordinary exaggerations in their official reports and will be brought before the courts.

HOW ALL MOTHERS CAN KEEP HEALTH

Cares of Home and Children Often Causes a Breakdown

The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health trials and her children's well-being exact heavy tolls, while hurried official reports and the constant pressure of household cares, through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many mothers grow up in to accept these troubles as a part of the lot of motherhood. But anxiety and varied as her situation may be, the cause is simple and relief at hand. It is rich, red blood that keeps a woman well, when she is ill the blood is thin and watery, and she must take a tonic to enrich it.

How All Mothers Can Keep Health

To renew her health. The nursing mother more than any other woman in the world needs a tonic to enrich her blood. There is one sure way to get this rich blood so necessary to health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Henry Burks, Lower L'Anse-au-Loup, N.S., tells what she did for her health. She says: "I first used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills five years ago. After my baby was born I felt weak, and my usual health—I felt weak, miserable and always tired. I started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking five boxes I felt like a new woman. Ever since that time when I feel tired or nervous, I take a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I am always with great benefit. I have proved that it is a splendid medicine for nursing mothers, and I always recommend them to others."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 31

JESUS FEEDS FIVE THOUSAND MEN

Golden Text: Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life; he that cometh to Me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst John 6:35.

Lesson: John 6:1-71.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 34:1-11.

Explanations and Comments

Jesus and the Multitude, verses 1-4. "After this a time" a vague note of time; see The Historical Background—Jesus crossed over to the eastern side of the Sea of Tiberias, or Sea of Galilee as it was also called, from the city of Tiberias which Herod Antipas had built on the lake in honor of the Emperor Tiberias. He climbed the hillside and sat down, hoping to have a quiet time of communion with His disciples.

Many young people have been accused, not without justice, of having a "moving picture mind"—all life being to them a series of snapshots, with no chance for a time exposure. "They cannot think straight on any subject; they are a bundle of transient impressions and confused ideas," says Dr. W. H. P. Farnce. "Solitude to the soul what space is to growing trees—without it the tree of the soul is stunted and dwarfed."

A great multitude of people, attracted to Jesus by His power over disease, followed on foot around the northern end of the lake. They were Galileans or they had come to the Passover at Jerusalem, the second one in Jesus' public ministry.

Honey in Manitoba

Value of Crop For Season of 1925 Placed at $323,170.50

The season of 1925 was particularly favorable for the production of honey in Manitoba. Abundant moisture with sufficient sunshine and an absence of light frosts, together with a large increase in the acreage of clover and alfalfa, have resulted in enormous yields of fine quality honey.

The value of the honey crop in Manitoba in 1925 is estimated as follows: 2,000 beekeepers, 27,370 colonies of bees in the spring; 28,400 colonies of bees in the fall, 4,077,320 pounds of honey at 15 cents a pound, $616,698.00; 28,410 pounds of wax at 25 cents a pound, $7,102.50; total, $623,770.50.

Average production per colony, 160 pounds.

Rescued Lord Jellicoe

Commander West Was Only Naval Cadet at the Time

Commander P. D. H. West, R.N., who has accepted the post of honorary secretary of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution station at Hastings, rescued Lord Jellicoe from drowning 35 years ago. While the fleet was engaged in manoeuvres in the Mediterranean there was a collision between the Victoria and the Camperdown, and Commander Jellicoe, as he then was, was seen in the water in a very exhausted state. Naval Cadet West swam to his help and supported him until they were picked up by a boat from H.M.S. Nile.

CO-OPERATION AMONG MEMBERS IS A NECESSITY

Ottawa.—After an absence of eight years the voice of Hon. Robert Rogers was again heard today in the House of Commons. He spoke in the debate on the address which promises to continue till the end of this week. He described the speech from the throne as "born of political right and political contradictions." He declared that the raw materials of Canada were being poured into the United States and coming back as finished products. And he charged that every member of the house knew that Chief Commissioner McKinnon, of the railway commission, had directions to do and give certain decisions concerning cases. I do not suppose," Mr. Rogers went on, "that I will be wrong, but I will say that it is a later period."

From the Liberal side of the house, R. H. Jenkins, of Quebec, P.E.I., held that times in the island had never been better. Prince Edward Island had no part in any idea of secession. The Maritime provinces might be called "partnership rights" and called for justice and fair play to all.

Thomas McMillan, of South Huron, Ont., strongly contested the view that the government was not justified in its action for removal of the British cargo against Canadian cattle. Mr. McMillan further urged that the government deserved credit for increasing Canada's overseas markets. He declared that Mr. McMillan was "shocked to the company of sold of which he was wont to speak."

Alfred Speckman, of Red Deer, gave a Progressive view. Mr. Speckman thought rural credits one of the most vital things in the suggested programme of legislation. Previous proposals on rural credits had remained "airial bodies and nothing more" and it was gratifying to Mr. Speckman that rural credits had been accepted as an active principle. Mr. Speckman announced his intention to vote against the Conservative amendment to the address. He was "dubious" as to the value of a duty on coal. He suggested that a better method would be by way of reducing railway transportation rates.

Mr. Speckman urged that co-operation among members of the house was a prime necessity. Progressives had no intention of extracting "the last pound of flesh" because of their position in the house. They hoped, however, to inspire something in the spirit of co-operation, which the house had long needed.

No Liberal-Labor Alliance

Lloyd George Denies Rumor in a Speech in Wales.

London.—Rumors that he intended to launch a movement for a Liberal-Labor alliance were denied by David Lloyd George in a speech at Carnarvon, Wales. He said that it would be unwise for Liberals to negotiate an alliance with any party, but he should concentrate its energies to reaching the goal of securing a large Liberal representation in the next parliament.

When that was achieved it would be time to consider co-operation with men who were prepared to support its programme, whether it involved a coalition government or not.

Chicago Gunman Captured

St. Louis, Mo.—Trained three months by department of justice agents, one of whose number he had slain, Martin J. Durkin, 26, notorious Chicago criminal, was captured here. The unknown slayer, described in police circulars as "very dangerous," "quick to draw," fell into a trap prepared by department agents, city detectives and railroad employees and was overpowered in the drawing room of a "Frisco-Katy" train upon arrival at Webster Groves, a suburb from San Antonio.

Turco-Afghan Pact

London.—The Government of Turkey and Afghanistan have concluded an agreement to form an alliance to repel all attacks against Islamic states. It is reported here. Moulvi Barkatullah, noted Indian Moslem leader, took a leading part. He said that Russia had agreed not to employ Communist propaganda in Afghanistan.

Asks Reduction Of Troops in Rhineland

Small Prospect of Favorable Reply to Germany's Request.

Paris.—The question of the reduction of the number of troops in the Rhineland occupation will be discussed by Premier Briand with Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, when Sir Austen passes through Paris, homeward bound from Rapallo, Italy.

There is little prospect of a favorable reply to Germany's request for a decrease in the number of allied troops of occupation in the Rhineland, it was said in official circles.

There are now about 40,000 French troops in the occupied territory including service of supplies, guards and line communications. It was stated, while British and Belgians have about 5,000 each. The French require many more men than their allies because they have less ground to cover.

The German demand will be referred to the council of ambassadors for consideration at its next meeting, the date for which has not been fixed.

Charge Control Of Britain's Food Prices

New Zealand Products Being Held Up Pending Orders.

London.—The Manchester Guardian gives prominence to an article in that paper in which it is alleged that while the government foot control in New Zealand with the malice of small shopkeepers the council gives no time to dealing with the machinations of the interests represented by certain organizations recently formed in New Zealand and Australia to foot control the prices of supplies of meat, butter and cheese which have already been sent to this country.

Quantities of the primary products of New Zealand have been held up pending orders from the Dominion with regard to the prices to be charged. The Guardian alleges: "This hold-up is part of a scheme whereby the agents here of the New Zealand dairy products control board are keeping the foot of the market until such time as the prices rise to a point suiting their liking," the article says, "and in the meantime the shipments are being kept down to the requisite quantities."

Steady Recovery In Industrial Employment

Dominion Bureau of Statistics Issues Report For 1925.

Ottawa.—Steady recovery in industrial employment marked the year 1925, according to a report just issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics. The working forces of the approximately 5,900 firms reporting averaged 761,131 varying between 690,535 on January 1, 1925, and 809,972 on October 1 last. The index number of the latter date was at its highest point for the year standing at 95.3.

In 1924 the peak of employment was reached on July 1, when the index was 95.9.

From early in January, 1925, to the beginning of July last there was, it is said, a period of uninterrupted expansion, during which approximately 100,000 persons were added to the staffs of the firms reporting.

Scottish Thrift

Citizens of Glasgow Show Saving Habit by Huge Bank Accounts.

London.—Glasgow's continued thrift is again exhibited in the sixteenth report submitted at the annual meeting of the savings bank which is the largest and most flourishing of its kind in the country. The deposit accounts now amount to over £2,000,000 sterling. Despite trade depression, there has been an increase in deposits for the year of nearly half a million. There were nearly 46,000 new accounts opened during the year.

Ask Duty On Imported Eggs

Miller, B.C.—Miller and Langley Prairie district poultrymen are asking for a duty of 18 cents a dozen on all eggs imported into Canada. It is pointed out that under the present Australian treaty eggs come into Canada duty free, while there is a tax of 18 cents a dozen on Canadian eggs entering Australia.

Turks Show No Mercy

Constantinople.—Seven Turks were hanged in the public square of Angora for having participated in recent revolutionary movement. Twenty-one Turks have been executed during the last two weeks.

Multi-Millionaire In 20 Years

Pasadena, Calif.—John G. Sutter, who emigrated from London, Eng., as a boy 30 years ago, has purchased a house for a price said to be $11,000,000.

Trade Prospects Very Bright

Canadian Trade Increase in Past Nine Months Is $255,000,000.

Ottawa.—Total Canadian trade for the nine months ending December, of the fiscal year, was $1,725,000,000, or $255,000,000 more than in the corresponding nine months of the previous fiscal year. Export trade again showed the greatest increase. Domestic exports totalled $1,085,000,000, an increase of approximately $205,000,000. Imports were $640,000,000, an increase of $50,000,000. Foreign merchandise exported was $9,549,000, practically the same as in the previous nine months' period.

Profits On Liquor

Alberta Government Makes Net Profit of $1,517,185 on Operations.

Edmonton, Alta.—Net profits of $1,517,185 were made by the Alberta Government on its operations under the Liquor Act in 1925, according to a statement issued by Premier Brodie. The full amount realized through the business of the liquor control board was $1,666,370, covering the full calendar year.

The 1925 figures are slightly in advance of the proportionate figures for 1924 when the board operated for only eight months.

DECIDE AGAINST THE PURCHASE OF ELEVATORS

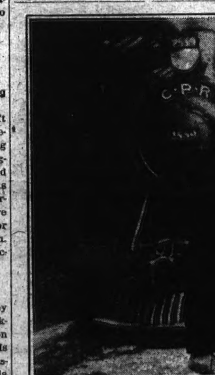

Calgary.—H. E. G. Schofield, cross-field, was re-elected vice-president of the United Farmers of Alberta. There were no other nominations.

The delegates voted against acquisition of elevator facilities by the Alberta Wheat Pool at the present time. The question came before the convention in the form of a resolution asking the convention to demand that the wheat pool take immediate action toward acquiring elevator facilities. Coupled in interest with the vote of the convention was a lengthy statement on the matter made by the president of the United Farmers of Alberta, H. Wood. He spoke, however, in his capacity as chairman of the board of directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool.

Mr. Wood was definite in his opposition to the acquisition of elevator facilities at the present time. "You are going to drive the pools out of business if you drive them into premature elevator development," he said.

He declared that it appeared to him as though there was a movement on foot to wreck the pool through an attempt to force it into acquiring elevator facilities. It would be possible, he said, to force the pool to spend $20 million dollars for elevators, then, while the pool was loaded up with debt, make a real fight against it while it was financially embarrassed. "It looks as though this movement might be getting some assistance by some farmers at the convention," he said.

The vote against the resolution followed his statement.

"Happiness Is in Poetry," Says Poet

"Lot's thought and great ideas, embodied in poetry of genius, serve as an introduction to another, more glorious life," said Dr. Billas Carman, considered the foremost Canadian poet, in an interview recently. "Fine poetry and excellent literature bring you where happiness is to be found."

The distinguished poet has just completed a tour of Western Canada, travelling exclusively on Canadian Pacific Railway lines, where he was scheduled to deliver a series of seminars and lectures on the Relation of Poetry to Life. His first lecture was given at the University of Manitoba in Winnipeg on January 12. Later he spoke at Saskatoon, Edmonton and Vancouver, completing his trip on January 22.

COMMITTEES MAY BE APPOINTED SOON AT OTTAWA

Ottawa.—Committees of the House of Commons, usually appointed only after the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne has been disposed of, may be struck early this year and the committee work of the house may be under way before the debate is finished.

The probability of a long adjournment immediately after the division on the address makes this desirable in order that any business requiring early committee consideration may be disposed of.

One of the first committees to get under way probably will be that on privileges and elections. This committee will have to consider one or two phases of the report of the electoral officer, especially that dealing with the election in North Huron, Ont.

Canadian Producers Elect Officers

Grading of Eggs, Butter and Cheese Discussed at Convention.

Ottawa.—A. W. Bayman, Ottawa, was elected president of the Canadian Produce Association, at the closing session of the convention here. Other officers are: First vice-president, C. M. Henderson, Montreal; second vice-president, C. P. Rhodes, Edmonton. A. P. McLean, Regina, was elected to the board of directors.

The convention recommended abolition of the present terminology in the grading of eggs, urging that the terms extra, second and medium replace the old names of extras, firsts and seconds.

George H. Barr, Toronto, in an address, declared that grading of cheese and butter had done more than any other thing in improving these industries.

Grading of cream would come into effect early this season.

Arbitration Treaty Has Outlawed War

Pact Between Sweden and Denmark Has Been Signed.

Stockholm.—War between Sweden and Denmark is definitely outlawed by an unlimited arbitration treaty between the two nations signed here. The pact provides for arbitration of all questions including even those of national honor and "vital interests." A similar treaty was concluded recently between Sweden and Norway and negotiations to the same end are understood to be in progress with Finland.

Must Not Break Sabbath

Quebec.—Mills and factories will no longer operate on Sunday in this province, or action will be taken by the attorney-general, according to instructions issued by Premier Taschereau to Louis Goyon, deputy minister of labor, to advise the owners or managers of firms affected that Sunday must be observed.

Wembley Workers Rewarded

Honors List Issued For Those Who Made Exhibition a Success.

London.—Representations which have been so persistent ever since the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley closed for recognition of those whose work made it a success, have prevailed earlier than the authorities originally intended. An honors list was issued which contains 36 decorations for those participating in the exhibition.

General Sir Travers Clarke, deputy chairman and chief administrative officer of the exhibition, is created Knight of the Grand Cross, the highest honor awarded.

Four were made knights and twelve Commanders of the British Empire. Eight were created officers of the order of the British Empire and ten members of the Order, of which Australia and New Zealand took the lion's share.

The only woman recipient was Lady Galloway, chairman of the Women's Section.

Newfoundland was represented in the list by Major L. C. Outbridge, of St. John's, who was made Commander of the Order of the British Empire.

Reduced Rate Westward

Premier Oliver Says B.C. Entitled to a Reduction of 2 or 3 Cents Per Hundred.

Victoria.—British Columbia is entitled to a reduction of two or three cents per hundred pounds on grain moving west from Edmonton and Calgary to the coast, under the judgment sustained by the railway board yesterday. Premier Oliver declared.

A rate of 21 cents a hundred is charged on grain moving from Edmonton and Calgary to the coast now, the premier explained. This movement, he said, should be given a rate of 19 cents almost, to put it on the same basis as the eastward movement.

Royal Family Issue From Semi-Retirement

Time of Full Mourning For Dowager Queen Is Over.

London.—The court has just changed from full mourning to half mourning for Dowager Queen Alexandra. This family to return to public life from their semi-retirement and resume public functions. The Prince of Wales opened an extensive engagement list with a dinner given by the South African Club. This will be the first public function he has attended since his recent tour of South Africa and South America.

THREATS ARE RECEIVED BY SASK. MEMBERS

Regina, Sask.—Anonymous letters threatening members of the Saskatchewan Legislature, who dare oppose the bill amending the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool Act of incorporation, have been received by Premier Charles A. Dunning. The premier, speaking on a question of privilege in the chamber, declared his confidence that the promoters of the bill knew nothing of the threats.

Supported by opposition groups in the house, Premier Dunning condemned the authors of the anonymous letters. He pointed out that intimidation of members was punishable by the legislature sitting as a court.

Debate on the proposed amending bill today brought out the question: "Will the amending bill prejudicially affect the rights of any individual in an action now before the courts?"

"Do the provisions of the bill by which the pool seeks the right to collect 25 cents a bushel as liquidated damages, also power to secure an injunction against members breaking the contract, raise the matters at issue in the Pool-Zurawski judgment?" The questions were raised on points of order. Mr. Speaker Robinson reserved his decision.

Will Buy More British Goods

This Year Will Be Best For Canada Since War.

London.—Canada this year will be able to buy more British goods than in any year since the war," stated C. W. Johnston, Canadian National Hallways manager at Montreal.

Speaking of Canada's prosperity, Mr. Johnston said that perhaps the best proof of Canada's economic revival is found in the changed attitude to immigration. "The three points of Canada's revival are: the psychological moment, as all classes are beginning to realize the necessity of new settlers," Mr. Johnston stated.

OBJECTION IS RAISED TO THE WHEAT POOL BILL

Regina.—Serious objection to the injunction power sought by the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool in the bill to amend the Pool Act of incorporation was raised in the legislature by P. L. Hyde (Government, Maple Creek), W. P. Knowles (Government, Moose Jaw) and Premier Dunning.

After a brisk debate lasting over three hours, the bill was given second reading and sent to the standing committee on private bills. D. A. Mott, an (Government) M.P. speaker of the bill, said he anticipated the measure would be given a stormy passage before the committee.

The objections raised to the bill were as follows:

By Mr. Hyde: The bill would make new contracts for people without giving them an opportunity to dissent or consent.

By Mr. Knowles: The injunction provision was an interference with vested rights. Men who signed the pool contract surely never thought they were opening the jail doors for themselves if they broke the contract.

By Premier Dunning: That the injunction powers involving the possibility of jail for Saskatchewan citizens was too drastic. That it took away from the judge his discretionary powers of granting an injunction and transferred them to the pool.

Clause 23 of the present pool contract provides that the pool may seek an injunction to restrain a member from breaking any provisions of the pool contract.

Remissions Of Duties

Sentiments of People of Canada Shown In Private Statistics.

Ottawa.—A "close-up" of some of the business of the Dominion and of the sentiments of its people is furnished in the apparently prosaic columns of a return filed in the house by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, acting leader of the government, showing the remissions of duties or fines for over a year past. There is an item of $14,892, being the duty and sales tax on Passover Bread or Matzo, imported into Canada by Hebrew communities in Canada during the fiscal year ended March 31, 1925; an item of $4,200 of duty and sales tax remitted on wooden patterns required by the Ford Company of Windsor to make car bodies for export to Australia, patterns to be used in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1925; and within two months. The exploits of the Mount Logan expedition are recalled in the remission of $7430 to the Woods Company, of Ottawa, for antiseptics and crampans imported to equip the expedition.

War memorials and other monuments are found in the list: Jacques Cartier monument to be erected in the grounds of the legislative buildings at Quebec city; public school at Amherst to be erected at Victoria, B.C.; bronze tablet in the Normal College at Truro, N.S.; memorial clock at McGill University, Montreal; bust of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in council chamber at Quebec city; statues valued at £1,518 presented to Vancouver art gallery by Lord Leverhulme.

Building Super-Bomber

New York Company Starts Construction of Huge Plane.

New York.—The largest single engine bombing plane in the world is now in the course of construction for the government. It was disclosed by Thomas H. Huff, president of the Huff Daland Airplane Company.

The new super-bomber, known as the "Cyclops," will be equipped with a 25-cylinder motor, capable of developing 1,500 horsepower. The plane will have an approximate speed of 125 miles an hour, and will carry fuel sufficient for a 24-hour flight.

No Decision Yet

Prince Albert, Sask.—The Conservative party will make no definite pronouncement respecting possible opposition to Premier King's candidacy in the approaching federal by-election until the present debate on the speech from the throne is concluded. This was the official announcement made by Conservative chiefs here.

London.—The new glass invented by Austrian chemists, which bonds, bonds, that break is not splintering. It is soon to be manufactured in England. Experts declare it can be made at the same cost as the ordinary brittle glass.

BLIND MOUTHS

SHOULD BE CLOSED

President Tory, of Alberta University, in the course of one of his recent addresses stated:

"I know there are still some people who think higher education is a luxury. With such people I can have no argument. Anyone knowing the history of science and its relation to the industrial and social organization of the modern world during the last one hundred and fifty years knows that the foundations of all our progress have been laid by the men who, having obtained a knowledge of some of the most profound secrets of nature, taught us how to use that knowledge for our comfort and advantage. The ignorant will doubtless continue to listen to the ignorant, but I am happy to believe that the day is dawning when knowledge of the task to be undertaken will be regarded as a first essential for those seeking public responsibility."

IT'S THE BIGGEST JOKE

WE KNOW OF, TOO!

The January issue of the A.T.A. carries the following item in its editorial column:

"Elsewhere in this issue appears reference to High School Inspector Smith's report on his visit to Blairmore. As might be expected from their cocksure attitude from the beginning, certain members of the School Board would voice sentiments which, pressed to their logical conclusion, mean nothing more nor less than that the board members know more about high school inspection than the first high school specialist in Alberta. Just fancy! A person whose experience extends no further, possibly, than selling coal and dealing with matters relating to coal mines, having the audacity to remark that the teachers reported upon need not worry about the high school inspector's estimate of their qualifications and efficiency."

"Of course, we have heard this stuff before. Other school boards in bad standing with the Alliance (there has never yet been an exception to this rule) have allowed the wish to be father to the thought and advertised and propagandized at every turn of the road that the present staff is better qualified, more efficient, much more conscientious, and are producing better results than any previous staff. BUT (might butt!) the examination results without one single exception have proven that the inspector made no error in judgment, and that the school and pupils have been misled. As a last resort, an 'S.O.S.' message has always been sent to the self-same high school inspector to come down and clean up the mess."

"The high school inspector was guilty of a serious error in procedure before making the inspection, he should have called on the board, asked the individual members what comments the majority desired should be made on the different members of the staff and what they considered was the state of organization and discipline in the school; then he should have resolved to hoodwink his own powers of observation and perception, just put in an appearance in school for formality's sake and embody in his report all the recommendations made by the board. Then might the inspector safely consider himself personally grata with the defenders of the faithful."

Rev. P. J. N. Cosman was a Calgary visitor during the week.

THE DRUNKEN MOTORIST

A recent decision by the Court of King's Bench, upholding a Montreal magistrate's contention that the federal law providing for punishment of drunken motorists takes precedence over provincial laws enacted for the same purpose, will be of interest to police officers and to the legal fraternity.

The federal law so upheld provides for a jail sentence without the option of a fine on conviction!

The decision settled a fine point of law. Will it put an end to drunkenness among those in charge of automobiles? This is an immeasurably more important question to the public than the niceties of a legal battle. The drunken driver is unfortunately not unknown in Canada.

An automobile in the hands of a reckless or intoxicated idiot is far too common an occurrence. It is a condition which must be stopped immediately.

The intoxicated driver can be eliminated through sensible cooperation between the public and the law.

The guilty must be punished. The great majority of motor car drivers will support and approve the severest penalties against this community menace.

Each driver of an automobile is in charge of a machine which if not properly and carefully driven becomes a menacing and powerful engine of destruction.

The intoxicated driver is nothing more or less than a potential murderer. Family Herald and Weekly Star.

A Seab Workman

One day an Irishman was walking down Market Street, in Harrisburg, when he paused before a book store. The proprietor had put up some signs advertising his bargains, and one of them read like this: "Dickens Works Here for Four Dollars All Week."

"The devil he does," said Pat, in deep disgust. "The dirty scab!"

She—"Are you in favor of women taking part in public affairs?"

He—"It's all right if you want the affairs made public."

ROBERT BURNS - 1739-1796

Sir James Barrie asserts that the greatest of all Scotsmen was Robert Burns. Scotland has bred many world famous sons and to select the greatest is a task, we may be pardoned if we decline. There is no doubt, however, that the greatest of Scottish poets was the lad who was born beneath a roof of straw.

The life of the poet was one of long struggle against adversity, and whatever his faults, his heart was true and he sang of the joys and sorrows of the average man and woman.

Of schooling he had but little and in a large measure he was self-taught.

"Gie me ae spark o' nature's fire, That's a' the learning I desire. Then tho' I drudge thro' dub an' mire

At plough or cart, My muse, though hamely in attire, May touch the heart."

He had his wish. His songs do touch the heart and his fame rests on his broad humanity—his sympathy and independence.

Burns was a genius, but he had the faults too often allied with such a temperament. He himself recognized his faults and in "A Bard's Epitaph" makes what Wordsworth termed "a sincere and solemn avowal":

"Let the critics read—ere they judge one in whose heart blossomed the sweet flower of charity. The poet had not but scorn for hypocrisy and insincerity, but was ever ready to sing the praise of the honest man. Are we nearing the realization of his prayer:

"That man to man, the world o'er Shall brothers be for a' that?"

Born in circumstances so adverse, without the help of influential friends, without the aid of riches, without the assistance of noble birth, and without the advantage of scholastic attainment, Robert Burns has achieved an undying fame, for although he has now been dead a hundred and thirty years, still wherever the English language is spoken, in all parts of the world, men gather together in their thousands on the 25th of January in each year to recall with love and affection the name, and to keep ever green and fresh the memory of Robert Burns.

What are the reasons for the popularity of Burns? This has been the theme of much debate and the subject of endless discussion. There are those who say that his fame rests upon his greatness as a song-writer, and in this there is a large element of truth. Any man who wrote the tender, beautiful songs that Burns wrote could not be denied his proper place in the front rank of poets of any nation. Others, again, point out that his popularity is due to the fact that when we read his works—and particularly his more serious poems—we see there our own thoughts, our own hope, longings and aspirations, and see them clothed with language which has the grace and charm of singular beauty, and the power, strength and conviction of truth and sincerity. There are others who claim that the secret of his success is that Burns has taken the common, simple, homely things of life and has exalted and glorified them. In "The Two Dogs," "Hallowe'en," "The Jolly Beggar," and a host of other poems, he shows as the life of the peasantry, of whom Burns was one—he presents a picture of the joys and sorrows, the pleasures and the griefs of the common people. He has taken the commonplace and, putting it upon a pedestal, he has cast about it the auroral halo of romance.

Burns' sympathy was genuine—it was real, true and heartfelt. There was nothing mawkish about it. Neither was it a sickly sentiment assumed for the purpose of completing a rhyme or making a pretty verse. His sympathy came straight from his big heart. It embraced everything, the flowers of the fields, the animals, the dumb creation, but it glowed and shone brightly and splendidly when it was aroused by the sufferings of human kind. Nothing stirred his heart to righteous anger more than the thought of the poor peasants ill-treated and oppressed by the proud and haughty rich.

While plowing one day in the spring, he turned in the furrow a little-daisy. To most farmers this would be a thing of no moment—but that day it was a poet who held the handles of the plow. To him it was a tragedy—a destruction of a thing of beauty. He has made the little daisy immortal by his lines:

"Wee, modest, crimson-tipped daisy, Thou's met me in an evil hour, For I must crush among the stoure

Thy slender stem; To spare thee now is past my pow'r; Gie'st thou bonnie gem?"

On another occasion, while plowing in the autumn, he turned up the nest of a little field mouse. The chill wind soon scattered the leaves and grass of which the nest was made and the poor mouse ran for its life in terror of the plowman. Did Burns seize the pattle (the small wooden mud scraper hanging on the plow) and pursue the animal to kill it? Oh, no! See what he says:

"Wee, sleekit, cloverin' timorous beastie, Oh, what a panic's in thy breast;

Thou need not start awa' sae hasty, W' bickering brattle! I wad be laithie ipe rin an' chase thee, WK murderin' pattle!"

Read his description of the long hours of toil, and the labor expended by the poor mouse in building his home, and the pathetic picture drawn by the poet of the destruction of the home in the face of a cold winter. The concluding verse is world-famous:

"But, mouseie, thou art no thy lane In proving foresight may be vain; The best laid schemes o' mice an' men

Gang aft agley, An' lea's us naught but grief an' pain, For promised joys—Ex."

NEW THING IN CHAIN LETTERS

A novel way of promulgating the "Safety First" idea has been discovered. This is by way of the old-fashioned nuisance—the chain letter, one of which was received a few days ago by W. A. Kingsland, general manager of western lines, Canadian National Railways, in which the sender pledged himself to observe the rule of "crossing crossings cautiously." There was nothing to indicate where or when the chain originated, but it stated that it was begun by a United States naval officer, and, judging by the names which are appended, it appears to have gone the rounds of the American, Japanese, Swedish and British navies before coming to Canadian National of ficials in the east.

Among the names appended are those of Admiral T. Cole, Admiral T. Jannette, Prince Schimnee, Captain K. T. Wu, Admiral Hoshida, Captain Syed, Sir William Beardsell, Commander A. Birthwaite, Senator E. W. Westfall, W. E. Swayne Vaughan, W. A. Kingsland, the latter sending it on to J. R. Cameron, assistant general manager at Vancouver, on its way around the world, for no one knows how many times.

A short meeting of the town council was held on Monday night. A number of accounts were passed for payment and a by-law was passed, appointing Mr. Arthur J. Kelly returning officer for the forthcoming municipal and school district elections.

PROVINCIAL BOXING CHAMPIONSHIPS

The provincial boxing championship elimination contests for Southern Alberta will be held at the Lethbridge "Y" on Thursday evening, March 4th, under the sanction of the Alberta branch of the A.A.U. of Canada. The southern district comprises all that part of the province south of Aldersyde, and it is expected that both the Crow's Nest Pass and Medicine Hat areas will send a strong contingent of aspirants for championship honors.

BIG ORDER FROM BRITAIN

There is dominion wide interest in the news contained in the despatch from London, England, stating that a lumber firm has received an order from one of the greatest of the British railway groups for 26,000,000 feet of Douglas Fir railway ties. The cable despatch stated this information came from high officials of the railways concerned.

"It is pointed out," reads the despatch, "in the same circles that this is more than British Columbia's total exports to Great Britain were in 1923. This order threatens the buying tradition for more than a century, a authority states. "British railway ties heretofore have been made from Baltic pine. For the first time the British railways have declared their intention of giving preference to Canadian timber, provided that the price and other conditions are equal. Also for the first time a great British railway group has inserted in its conditions of tender that preference is to be given to Canadian timber." The British Admiralty also decided recently to use Douglas fir for the decks and bulkheads of new battleships and the British board of trade has agreed to use Douglas fir and silver spruce in the construction of both rowing and motor lifeboats.

Swift Rise To Fame

Struggling Artist Suddenly Becomes Fashionable Portrait Painter In London

Even Mr. Sean O'Casey, who could not read when he was twelve, and now has a play running to full houses in London, is less remarkable than Boyer the Montmartre artist, who has become a fashionable portrait painter. A few months ago he was cooking and selling fried potatoes on a stall, and counting himself fortunate if one who came to buy chips could be persuaded to buy a picture. He was "discovered" by an art dealer, and had a portrait of a princess hung in the Salon. Now Americans outbid each other for his work. Like Mr. O'Casey he still clings to his old lodgings, but he has acquired a handsome motor car and a house in the country.

English Woman Admires Gandhi

British Admiral's Daughter Devoting Life to His Cause

An English woman of high social standing whose arrival in India has caused some stir in the country, is Miss Madeline Slade, the daughter of Admiral Sir Edmund Slade, commander in chief of the East India naval squadron. Miss Slade intends to devote the rest of her life and personal fortune in the cause of the "Master," as she calls Mr. Gandhi. She came to know of Mr. Gandhi and his views in France through Romain Rolland, who is himself a great admirer of Mr. Gandhi in Europe. Miss Slade was so attracted with the Indian patriot's doctrine that she made the venture of coming out to India and see him for herself.

Newspaper Passes 100th Anniversary

The Brockville Recorder newspaper has completed a milestone in publication of one hundred and five years without change of title. It was founded in 1821 by Chauncey Beach, an itinerant printer, as the first newspaper in upper Canada, east of Kingston and is today the sole survivor of all of its contemporaries at that period.

In the early days of submarine cables the minimum rate was $100 for 20 words and five dollars for each additional word.

Turning Point For China

Next Few Months May Decide Her Fate For Another Century. China is reaching her decade. The most significant developments of the last decade are contained in the reported retirement of Chang Tiao-Lin, dictator of Manchuria, and Feng Yuxiang, the power behind the central government. The irreconcilables, both sustained by arms in their respective spheres, have headed the lesson of inactivity and have become wedded to discretion. So much for the personal aspect; what of China?

The old order is passing, yielding places to new. The day of the war lord is nearly past. The Chinese Dragon, with much travail, is shedding its medieval scales. Youth is in the ascendant, as youth has asked the return of Italy, Turkey and that other seat of ancient culture, Persia. All indications point to the birth of a united China—a militant China insistent upon taking her place as a great power in the world's schemes.

The civil war is over. What will take their place? Not since the deposition of the Manchus has there arisen a more auspicious time for the appearance on the stage of a dictator to unite and rule. The next few months will be rich in interest to the watcher. They may decide China's fate for a century.—Montreal Gazette.

May Police The Seas

French Opinion Seems To Think That Britain Will Take on the Job

The British admiralty's purporters, with leading British shipbuilders for the construction of a huge floating dock for the Singapore naval base makes French maritime experts believe the London government expects to be vested eventually by the League of Nations with the entire policing of the seas.

The largest warship in the British navy is 11,000 tons. The Washington treaty limits the size of all future battleships to 35,000 tons, but it is significant that the admiralty's plans demand a 50,000-ton ship. It will be the largest naval dry dock in the world and will be completed in 1934.

French marine officials point out that 1935 the Washington agreement reduces British capital ships to 16 and a year later to 15, while the Japanese are only entitled to nine big ships in 1936.

Since this apparently minimizes the danger of conflict in the Pacific, the preparations at Singapore are taken to mean that the Washington agreement will be invalidated soon or that the British expect the Geneva council to entrust them with control of the seas.

Receive Additional Powers

Saskatchewan Trustees of Canteen Fund Can Appoint Secretary Or Other Agents

Additional powers have been conferred on the Saskatchewan trustees of the canteen funds to be administered in this province in an order-in-council published in the current issue of the Saskatchewan Gazette.

The trustees are empowered to appoint a secretary and such other servants or agents as may be required. Meeting of the trustees shall be held at least once every three months, the regular meetings to be held in Regina where the books and accounts shall be kept. In no case may the trustees meet outside of the province. A chairman is to be elected at the first meeting.

Saskatchewan's share of the canteen fund is $250,000 and will be administered by Colonel James McAra, Regina, Albert H. White, Regina, and Charles C. Cox, Saskatoon.

Motor Cars Becoming Necessity

Highest Point of Production Is Far In The Future

When the number of passenger cars and trucks in 1922 went over the 1,000,000 mark, it was said that the motor industry had reached its peak, but in 1925 there was an increase of about 250,000 motor vehicles over the 1922 total. Apparently, the forecasters failed to take into account the fact that the automobile was increasingly being looked upon as a necessity, both in town and country. There seems to be common agreement that construction of modern motor roads is still in its infancy. If this is true, the maximum period of the automobile industry is still too far ahead for the prophets to foresee.—Buffalo Courier.

Prison Population

Government Report States Number of Inmates of Prisons Are Decreasing

The average daily population of Canada's penitentiaries is decreasing, judging from the report of the superintendent of federal jails for the last fiscal year. In that year there were 2,217 unwilling guests of the federal government on any average day. In the previous year there were 2,373 and in the year before that 2,552.

The cost per capita per diem was lower last year than in 1923, but higher than in 1924. The figures are: 1925, $1.48; 1924, $1.50; and in 1923, $1.53.

The general cost of administration of the several federal penitentiaries administered under the superintendent of penitentiaries for the Dominion was $1,683,192 for the last fiscal year. From this is deducted $168,328, revenue earned by the work of the prisoners.

Urges Linking Of Railways

Premier Oliver Suggests Idea To Solve Transportation Problems of Peace

River Country
The connecting of the Pacific Great Eastern and the Edmonton, Dunsmuir and British Columbia Railways, operating along the Peace River, was the most feasible and practical solution of the transportation problem of the Peace River country, with its agricultural lands of about 70,000,000 acres. Premier John Oliver declared in addressing the Vancouver board of trade. While it would include the distance between Vancouver and the Peace River country by about 100 miles as against the Peace River route, the cost, he said, would be no greater and the engineering problems would be greatly reduced.

Real Religion In Russia

Not by his Russia had more religion than now, for in persecution religion either dies or is born again, said Barness De Hueck in an address before the Women's Art Association. "The official church has collapsed," he continued, "but many thousands are leading the country to a spiritual religion that will never die."

ON THE AIR

What Is Doing in the World of Radio

Weighing less than 100 pounds, a small radio device by which one can maintain direction of 1,000 planes in battle has been perfected secretly in the United States.

The listener is considered the biggest factor in radio broadcasting today. Practically every broadcast station is sending out test programmes to determine the desires of the radio public.

Setting a record for Saskatchewan in two-way wireless conversation, L. H. Perren, 2044 Albert Street Regina code artist, talked to A. S. Chung, Honolulu, Hawaii, from 9.55 to 10.12 o'clock one evening recently.

A score of men, on top of the world, at remote points within the Arctic Circle, recently clustered around radio sets in police barracks or trading posts to hear news from the postmaster-general of Canada and Hudson's Bay Company officials, and a musical programme broadcast from radio station KFKX at Hastings, Neb. The programme began at 9 o'clock and lasted after midnight. Results of the radio cast will not be known until the Arctic regions open up next summer.

It is radio developing a mysterious and uncanny "radio sense" in habitual recipients?

It is well known that the deprivation of one of the senses serves to sharpen and make more acute those remaining. KFKX officials at Los Angeles believe that the recipientist, who is essentially blind before a loud speaker, has instinctively developed an unbelievable perception gained through the ear alone.

KFKX bases its theory on thousands of letters which graphically and almost accurately describe persons who take part regularly on the programme. These descriptions are by persons who have never seen the performers.

Pastor Gave Away Millions

Every Dollar of Earnings Was Spent On Poor

Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, of the Baptist Temple, New York, was the follower of Jesus in going about doing good. During his lifetime he earned $1,000,000, by his own efforts. Every dollar of it was spent in behalf of the poor, the needy, the outcast. By his liberality he won the title of the "benevolent millionaire." Eleven million dollars was given away by this means for the cause of charity and education. Rockefeller, Carnegie, Straus, Fick and a half dozen others have given millions for charity and education, but none gave as much in proportion as did this man. He gave millions and died with an estate of practically nothing. An estate of $14,000 was left to a son and daughter. He also left an imperishable name.—Harrison British Whig.

Says Parley Would Be Mostly Political

London Paper Comments on Proposed Imperial Conference

The Evening Standard says that if the proposed Imperial conference is held in October next it will be primarily political.

The political United States, however, is in no immediate danger. The standard adds, but the economic organization (the Imperial economic committee) is practically non-existent.

Continuing, The Standard says: "The formation of definite plans for the development of empire, markets and the organization of Imperial trade cannot be done in six months but could be done by October, 1928."

Enlarge Ottawa Fair

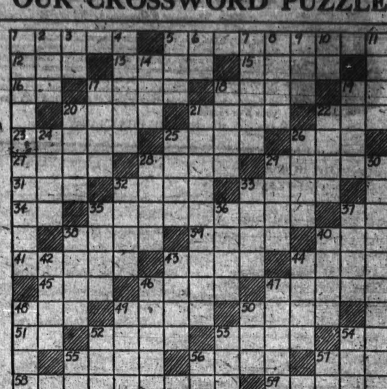

Exhibition at Federal Capital May Get Dominion Government Grant

As the result of an interview with Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture in the Dominion Government, Ottawa will likely receive a grant from the Dominion Government towards extension to the exhibition buildings at Lansdowne Park, Mayor Barharde stated. The fact that the world's poultry congress is coming to Ottawa in 1927, makes it necessary for the government to erect new buildings to meet the requirements of this big congress.

Regular classes have been established at Inner Hall.

A Lowly Herb

Known to Chinese For 5,000 Years. It Contains a Useful Drug

"A lowly herb whose virtues have been known to the Chinese for 5,000 years, has yielded a drug which shortly will be adopted by western medicine men as a powerful agent with a variety of clinical uses."

Known as ephedrine, its utility to physicians and surgeons has been demonstrated at the University of Wisconsin by Dr. K. K. Chen. Treating colds in the head, relieving asthma and for local anaesthesia are three of the uses to which the rediscovered chemical has already been put with marked success.

"The most important power of the drug is its ability to cause a pronounced and sustained rise in the blood pressure. Its advantages are so great that it is expected to supplant to a great extent, the drug adrenalin, which is taken from the adrenal glands of animals and widely used in the operating room."

"Adrenalin causes a rise in blood pressure, but the effect is brief. Further, this is followed by a fall. The new material does not possess this drawback of after opposite effect."

Priceless Relic Is Property of the Soviet Government

If, as reported, the Soviet Government of the Petrograd Museum to the contents of the church in the city, the building thus honored will become the repository of at least one priceless relic, which will be in keeping with the church. This is the Codex Sinaiticus, one of the earliest translations of the Bible. This was discovered in 1905 in a monastery on Mount Sinai, and presented to Tsar Alexander II. It is believed to be the oldest known manuscript of the Old and New Testament, and probably was written some time during the fourth century.

Dined With King George

Prince of Hesse First German Entertained At Buckingham Palace

Prince Christian of Hesse dined with King George and Queen Mary recently, thus giving the answer to the question which has been raised often since the war as to who would be the first individual of German origin to be entertained at Buckingham Palace after the close of hostilities. Prince Christian went to London to attend the funeral of Queen Mother Alexandra, "Aunt Alice," he had been. Early in the war he attracted public notice by writing an open letter to Kaiser Wilhelm at the beginning of the submarine campaign and resigning his commission in the German navy as a protest.

Livestock In Good Condition

Western Cattle Running Outside and Farmers Saving Feed

The Department of agriculture and colonization of the Canadian National Railways reports that livestock in the west are in better condition at this period, than for many years past. Almost entire absence of snow, is enabling farmers to keep their cattle and horses running outside, with a consequent saving of feed. The reverse supply of feed is also having the effect of increasing the number of cattle being carried through the winter.

Police Brilliantly Dressed
A new corps of brilliantly dressed traffic police are giving back to the streets of Blairmore the color lost with the passing of the ice and slush.
The crimson and brass helmets of these officers of the law, and their uniforms of red, and white stripes, which resemble stripes of peppermint candy, give promise that the new era is not to be entirely drab.

BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

James Oliver Curwood

A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.
"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitaphone Picture, with Wolf, the War Dog, is an adaptation of this story.

SYNOPSIS

It was in the winter that a half-breed found in the snow footprints of Baree, the wolfdog. He reported to McTaggart, the fact that he had seen prints larger than those of a fox, and the factor's suspicions were aroused. Baree had been his enemy. He had tried to kill the dog on the spot, but the wolfdog had killed him. Moreover, McTaggart loved the dog, the trapper, who was Baree's master, and named the animal to be segregated from Nepeene, the trapper's daughter.

The next day saw the beginning of the struggle that was to follow between the wits of man and beast. Baree the microcephalous of Bush McTaggart's trap-line was not war; it was existence. It was to furnish him food, as Elger's line had furnished him food for many weeks. But he sensed the fact that this time the trapper was lawbreaker and had an enemy to outwit. Had it been good hunting weather he might have gone on, for the unseen hand that was guiding his wanderings was drawing him slowly but surely back to the old border-land and the Gray Loon. At it was, with the snow deep and soft under him—so deep that in places he plunged into it over his ears. McTaggart's trapline was like a trail of mamma made for his special use. He followed in the Fox's snowshoes, and in the third trap killed a rabbit. When he had finished with it nothing but the hair and crimson patches of blood lay upon the snow. Starved for many days, he was Alas with a wolf's hunger, and before the day was over he robbed the bait from a full dozen of McTaggart's traps. Three times he struck poison-bait—venom or carbolic acid in the heart of which was a dose of strychnine, and each time he knew his nostrils detected the danger. Perrot had more than once noted the amazing fact that Baree could sense the presence of deadly danger turned him away. So he passed Bush McTaggart's poisoned baits, stilling them on the way, and leaving the story of his suspicion in the manner of his footprints in the snow. Where McTaggart had halted at midday to cook his dinner Baree made these cautious circles with his feet.

The second day being his hunger and more keenly alive to the hated smell of his enemy, Baree ate less but was more destructive. McTaggart was not as skillful as Pierre Dastach in keeping the scent of his hands from the traps and "houses," and every now and then the smell of him was strong in Baree's nose. This wrought in Baree a swift and definite antagonism, a steadily increasing hatred where a few days before he had been almost forgotten. There is, perhaps, in the animal mind a process of simple computation which does not quite achieve the distinction of reason, and which is not altogether instinct, but which produces results that might be ascribed to either. Baree did not add two and two together to make four; he did not go back step-by-step to prove to himself that the man to whom this trapline belonged was the cause of all his evils and troubles—but he did find himself possessed of a deep and yearning hatred. McTaggart was the one creature except the wolves that he had ever hated; it was McTaggart who had hurt him. McTaggart who had hurt Pierre, McTaggart who had made him lose his beloved Nepeene, and McTaggart was here on this trapline! He had been wandering before, without object or destiny, he was given a mission now. It was to keep to the trail. To feed himself. And to vent his hatred and his vengeance as he lived.

"The Black Wolf!"

The second day, in the centre of a lake, he came upon the body of a wolf that had died of one of the poison baits. For a half-hour he mauled the dead beast until its side was torn in ribbons. He did not taste the flesh; it was repugnant to him. It was his vengeance on the wolf breed. He stopped when he was half a dozen miles from Lac Bain, and turned back. At this particular point time crossed a frozen stream beyond which was open plain; and over that plain came the wind was right—the smoke and smell of the Post. The second night Baree lay with a full stomach in a thicket of balsam poplar; the third day he was travelling westward over the trapline again.

Early on this morning Bush McTaggart started out to gather his catch, and where he crossed the stream six miles from Lac Bain he first saw Baree's tracks. He stopped to examine them with sudden and unusual interest, falling at last on his knees, whipping off the glove from his right hand, and picking up a single hair.

"The black wolf!" He uttered the words in an odd, hard voice, and involuntarily his eyes turned straight in the direction of the Gray Loon. After that, even more carefully than before, he examined one of the clearly impressed tracks in the snow. When he rose to his feet there came in his face the look of one who had made an unpleasant discovery.

"A black wolf!" he repeated, and shrugged his shoulders. "Bah! Lerne is a fool. It is a dog! And then, after a moment, he uttered in a voice scarcely louder than a whisper, 'her dog.'"

He went on travelling in the trail of the dog. "A new excitement possessed him that was more thrilling than the excitement of the chase. Being hungry, it was his privilege to go two and two together, and out of two and two he made—Baree. There was little doubt in his mind. The wolfdog had flashed on him first when Lerne had mentioned the black wolf. He was convinced after his examination of the tracks. They were the tracks of a dog, and the dog was black. Then he came to the first trap that had been robbed of its bait.

Under his breath he cursed. The bait was gone, and the trap was untrapped. The sharpened stick that had transmuted the bait was pulled out slowly.

All that day Bush McTaggart followed a trail where Baree had left traces of his presence. Trap after trap he found robbed. On the lake he came upon the mangled wolf. From that disturbing excitement of his discovery of Baree's presence, his humor changed slowly to one of rage, and his race increased as the day dragged out. He was not unacquainted with four-footed robbers of the trapline, but usually a wolf or a fox or a dog who had been caught in a thicket of brush, and who had been thievedly troubled only a few traps. But in this case Baree was travelling straight from trap to trap, and his footprints in the snow showed that he stopped at each.

At dusk he reached the shack Pierre Dastach had built midway of his line, and took inventory of his fur. It was not more than a third of a catch; the lynx was half ruined, a mink was torn completely in two. The second day he found still greater ruin, still more barren traps. He was like a madman. When he arrived at the second cabin, late in the afternoon, Baree's tracks were not an hour old in the snow. Three times during the night he heard the dog howling.

The third day McTaggart did not return to Lac Bain, but began a cautious hunt for Baree. An inch or two of fresh snow had fallen, and as if to take even greater measure of vengeance from his man-enemy, Baree had left footprints freely within a radius of a hundred yards of the cabin. It was half an hour before McTaggart could pick out the straight trail; and he followed this for two hours into a thick bushy swamp. Baree kept with the wind. Now and then he caught the scent of his pursuer; a dozen times he waited until the other was so close he could hear the snap of brush, or the metallic click of a trap. Then he leaped, and then he waited with a sudden inspiration that brought the curses afloat to McTaggart's lips, he swung in a wide circle and cut straight back for the trapline. When the factor reached the line, along the trail went Baree, who had already begun his work. He had killed and eaten a rabbit; he had robbed three traps in the distance of a mile, and he was headed again straight over the trapline for Post Lac Bain.

A Considerable Difference

Newspapers Have Hard Time Convincing People Advertising Is Not News

There is quite a deal of difference between news and advertising, says the Ottawa Citizen, but a newspaper has a hard time often in making some readers realize the difference. If a person has something to sell and wants the public to know about it, that is advertising. It is purely a business transaction with the one object of making money. An ice cream supplier notices it is new; it is advertising. Because the money for a worthy cause does not make it any less an advertisement. Where there is no charge involved or money to be received from the event, the paper is frequently willing to tell about it as a matter of news. A newspaper must have advertising to live. That is one of its ways of getting money to pay the expenses of operation and if it ran all advertisements free there would be no cash returns. But at that the average newspaper gives away thousands of dollars' worth of space each year in helping promote civic affairs and is glad of the opportunity to be of service to the community.

War's Widows

Two hundred and thirty thousand widows will establish claims under the English Government's new pension law. It will cost the government $15,000,000 a year. A nation rarely wishes paying the debts of one war before another is begun. When men are faring enough to forget the enormous costs and consequences of wars they will be much slower in planning the next. —Grove Patterson in Duluth Herald.

Chinese Try to Decline

Seto, Rome, Asiatic agent of C.P.R. ocean traffic, Vancouver, states that Oriental traffic back to China had fallen off to a considerable degree during the past year. He attributed the fact to unrest in China. Formerly, he stated, between six and seven thousand Chinese left Vancouver from Canada and the Western United States enroute for China.

Disposal Of Ex-Kaiser's Property

Matter Will Be Decided by the German People

Germany is to be asked to decide by referendum whether some millions of dollars' worth of property in castles, estates, art and money shall be handed over by the republic to ex-Kaiser Wilhelm II.

The agitation against the proposed grant has become so intense and the spirit of many workers so embittered, that the Socialist party executive decided to undertake the necessary steps for getting a referendum on this question.

This executive acted after numerous protests of laborers and white collar folk had arisen throughout the land. The burden of these complaints was that the German republic now plunged in its worst unemployment period, ought not to give to the former Kaiser the millions of marks which would render him one of Europe's richest men.

There has been a heated controversy as to whether or not the property to be returned really belonged to the Kaiser or to Wilhelm personally. A careful census of the property confiscated during the 1918 "revolution" led finally to the conclusion that Wilhelm was entitled to regard several million dollars' worth of it as his own.

The matter then came up for ratification by the Prussian diet, but at that moment the clamor throughout the land caused legislators to proceed cautiously. In view of the more for the Kaiser, it is likely that the attempt will be made to rush the grant through.

Meantime reports from Doorn indicate that the Joy of Doorn over the prospects of fortune have been about equalled by the gloom of the Kaiser's ruinously to his 1926 budget.

A pleasant medicine for children is Mother Graves' Worm Expeller, which is a safe and effective remedy for driving worms from the system.

Prediction Came True

Citizen of Bombay Foretold His Own Death On Nov. 18

An extraordinary story of predicting one's own death comes from Sholapur in Bombay Presidency. Moti Swamy, literally the "Pearl of Sholapur," aged 30, had predicted. It is stated six months ago, that he would pass away on November 18 last. Two days before that he reminded his followers that the time of his death had arrived, and at their request a photograph was taken. On the day of his death he walked round the city and camp of Sholapur, collected money for his burial, deposited it with a municipal councillor, was thence, and having seated himself in the yoga posture, passed away.

Kipling Likes Quiet Home

Lives Five Miles From Railroad and Has No Telephone

Darling, Bradford, Kipling, lives the village of Durwash in England has more visitors than ever before. Mr. Kipling chose Durwash as a place of residence because it is one of the few "quiet" retreats which still remain unaffected by the progress of the motor car. He has no telephone, and his former home, because so overrun with tourists, now houses and motor coaches that for the sake of peace and quietness he was obliged to move. Hatenham, which is the name of his 300-year-old house, has no telephone and it stands amid lovely country at least five miles from a railroad station. On the quiet porch is the date 1834, and its fine old oak beams are a conspicuous feature. A cross-channel stream, with a view of the neighborhood on their way from London to the coast, say that the old Hatenham house is a distinctive landmark by reason of its chimney stacks.

Discover Strange Race

Survival of a Lost Tribe in the Wilds of South Africa

A scientific expedition, led by three Denver scientists, has returned to Cape Town from the remote desert regions to the north with a strange tale of the survival of a lost tribe of "strapped" people, the primitive cave-dwellers who formerly inhabited the coastal belt of the Cape and were believed to have become extinct.

The leaders of the expedition are Dr. G. E. Cade, Dr. Grant H. John and Paul L. Schuchman.

The explorers have been climbing high life in the remote parts of the Kalahari Desert in the Bechuanaland Protectorate, and the Koko Veldt, the northern coastal region of the former German Southwest Africa. These are the regions chiefly inhabited by the bushmen, among the most backward of the human races.

The scientists report that the "strapped" name given the cave-dwellers by the explorers who first came to this region many decades ago, were discovered inhabiting an almost inaccessible stretch of coast which is isolated by a hundred-mile width of desert.

The government of the South African Union is being urged to send a special expedition to investigate this territory and its inhabitants.

Women Member of British Labor Party Satisfied With Conditions

In Canada "Conditions in Canada appear to me to be quite satisfactory, and I believe that a great many people now in the British Isles can be comfortably and happily settled in the Dominion," said Miss Jilla Varley, of Birmingham, England, a member of the executive of the Labor party, during a conference at Montreal, with Mr. W. J. Black, director of colonization. Miss Varley had decided to see for herself what manner of people live in Canada and to study the conditions under which they work.

Accordingly, she set out on England on her own initiative, without the aid of any organization, intending on her return to England to relate her experiences through the medium of her pen and by lectures. The general tenor of her future articles and addresses is indicated by her remark that she was generally satisfied with conditions as she found them in this country, with the added suggestion that she would advise those who can make the break to do so and find new homes in Canada.

Childhood Ailments
Can be Quickly Banished With Baby's Own Tablets
The ailments of childhood are many but none of them are due to one cause and one cause only—a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels.
